

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND MORE CHINESE TO FRONT

Desperate Fighting In Attempt To Stem Advance on Shanghai

NIPPONESE GAINS AT HEAVY COST

Impressive Rites For Japanese Killed In Recent Action

SHANGHAI, Sept. 30.—Two hundred thousand more Chinese Communists were ordered to the north China front today to stem the relentless advance of the Japanese army, as Chinese outside Shanghai continued to hold their positions and showed no signs of weakening. Communist forces in Kiangsi province were mustered to join nationalist troops, their old enemies, as the Japanese advanced through eastern Hopen almost to the border of Shantung province, which has felt only light, infrequent attacks from the Japanese.

With their offensive in central and north China being pushed vigorously, Japanese sources declared their information indicated Marshal Vassily Galens-Blucher, commander-in-chief of Soviet Russia's Siberian forces was advising the Chinese armies.

The Japanese "big push" against the Chinese defense lines northwest of Shanghai was fought to a standstill.

At midday, after more than 24 hours of desperate fighting, a Japanese spokesman admitted only minor gains had been made, although he claimed a slight advance at all points except in the Kiang-wan sector had made possible another general offensive.

The Domei (Japanese) News Agency reported from Nanking that Marshal Galens-Blucher was directing the Chinese resistance by telephone from his Siberian headquarters.

Twice daily, the Domei dispatch said, the Russian marshal was in communication with E. D. Lepin, military attache of the Soviet embassy in Nanking, receiving the fullest reports and advising on troop operations.

The dispatch declared that the road across the western province of Sinkiang was choked with trucks bringing munitions and other military supplies into China from Soviet Siberia.

Across Sinkiang, the Soviet ambassador, Dmitri Bogomoloff, raced aboard a special train to Moscow for a conference that observers said would have a vital bearing on

PAULINE SAWYER ACTING QUEEN

Miss Pauline Sawyer was named the Smith-Cotton Activity Queen as the high school annual activity ticket drive came to a close at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. For the past week and a half the students at the high school have been working hard and fast to put their candidate for queen in by selling activity tickets for their class number. The senior class had 26,750 votes, the freshmen 21,672; the sophomores, 20,653; the juniors 18,604; and the eighth graders 9,155.

Tonight at the Smith-Cotton-Richmond football game at Liberty Park at 7:30 P. M. Miss Sawyer will be crowned at the half, with the Spiz girls and the band helping in the performance. The queen's attendants will be Misses Mildred Baker, Mildred Arnold, Mary Ethel McGowan and Mary Alyse Griessen. These girls were candidates of these classes respectively—junior, sophomore, freshman, and eighth grade.

Following the football game there will be a dance at Convention Hall which is sponsored by the "Spiz" club and the music will be furnished by the Ambassadors. Another ceremony for the queen will be held at this time.

DECLINE PREDICTING BALANCED BUDGET

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Secretary Morgenthau declined today to predict whether the treasury will achieve a balanced budget this fiscal year.

President Roosevelt has said government income and outgo will be balanced in the next fiscal period, which begins next July 1.

At present, the treasury is making a survey designed to bring about all possible governmental economies in the current year. Morgenthau, however, declined at a press conference to estimate how much might be saved or whether spending could be brought within income.

MRS. BURGER AGAIN HEADS THE W. C. T. U.

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 30.—By unanimous votes all state officers of the Missouri Woman's Christian Temperance Union were re-elected at the fifty-fifth annual convention being held here. Mrs. Nelle G. Burger of Springfield was elected for her twenty-fifth year as president.

Other state officers are: Mrs. B. Blanch Butts of St. Joseph, vice president; Mrs. Lettie Hill May of Springfield, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Peterson of Kansas City, recording secretary; and Mrs. Louise L. Van Lund of St. Louis, treasurer.

The 1938 state convention will be held in St. Joseph during the latter part of October, according to officials. Formal acceptance of St. Joseph's invitation will not come until tomorrow, however.

STATE MEETING FOR G. O. P. MAY BE HELD IN SEDALIA

New Chairman Says The Black-Klan Issue Be Carried To Voters

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—Missouri's Republicans, under the new chairmanship of Barak T. Mattingly, laid the groundwork today for a "grass roots" convention and subsequent campaign on the Black-Klan issue "to carry the gospel of Americanism into every home."

Mattingly, a St. Louis attorney and member of the Republican state committee before his election yesterday to the chairmanship, succeeded Grover W. Dalton of Poplar Bluff.

The new chairman in his speech of acceptance called the appointment of Hugo L. Black of Alabama to the United States supreme court and his affiliation with the Ku Klux Klan a prime issue in the next campaign.

"I serve notice upon New Dealers from Franklin D. Roosevelt to Wizard Evans (Hiram W. Evans, Imperial Wizard of the Klan with headquarters in Atlanta) and Hugo Black that this is one issue which will be carried to the people in the next campaign with all the fervor that we can command."

Arthur M. Curtis of Springfield, national Republican committeeman, told the G. O. P. state leaders their first task was organizing for the 1938 off-year elections immediately, rather than waiting until just before the ballot is taken.

Both Springfield and Sedalia were mentioned as possible sites for an organizational convention in late October or early November of this year.

Urging harmony, Curtis asserted "we have nothing to fight about but the future of America. Let's work together in peace and harmony."

MARTIN HAS GUN IN GREETING GROUP

DETROIT, Sept. 30.—Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers besieged in his hotel by rank and file members of the union, poked a revolver out of the door of his suite today when five of the group pounded and kicked against the door.

He immediately put the gun away when he saw the UAW caps and Shop Stewards' badges displayed by his visitors.

He explained "I didn't know who was at the door," and added that the group had interrupted a conference he was having with Ford Motor Company representatives.

The "rank and file" workers set up a watch at entrances to the hotel this morning, apparently to lodge a protest against recent dismissals by Martin of union organizers active in last winter's strikes.

Four men and a woman, declining to identify themselves, went to Martin's suite after an international executive board member had informed them Martin had left the hotel.

After the revolver episode Martin told them, "I'll see you at the first opportunity but I can't see you now," and closed the door on them.

Members of the group said later they had been hasty in kicking at the door of the suite.

Martin said of the incident, "I have been threatened before and when somebody knocked on the door I thought it might be some one trying to get me."

BAR SIDETRACKS RESOLUTION FOR INQUIRY ON BLACK

Committee Recommended That It Be Not Adopted

REP. SUMNERS GIVES ADDRESS

Insists on The Following of Principles of Government

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30.—The American Bar association today definitely killed an investigation of the appointment of Justice Black but, in heated debate, directed further study of a proposed condemnation of membership in "secret, oath bound" organizations as incompatible with the position of supreme court justice.

The assembly of the association, almost evenly divided, instructed the resolutions committee to make a joint study of the secret order resolution and of a suggestion, made by Lessing Rosenthal of Chicago, that the bar association go on record favoring mandatory public hearings in the senate on all further supreme court nominations.

Charles M. Hay, former city attorney of St. Louis, brought the row to a head when he took the floor to speak on the motion to recommit and declared:

"This is a matter dealing with a very serious proposition. Hasty decision by this body might inflict grievous wounds. If, ever there was a matter that needed, calm deliberate consideration, this resolution is it."

"There is nothing here offered that would further clear the already muddied waters of America." Immediately after Hay spoke, the question was returned to the resolutions committee by a voice vote.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30.—A resolution to investigate Justice Black was sidetracked and probably killed in an American Bar Association committee today while Rep. Hiram Sumners, Texas Democrat, outlined a "battalion of death" to fight for constitutional government.

Sumners, chairman of the house judiciary committee and powerful figure in the recent supreme court battle, clarified to reporters a section of a speech in which he asked: "Are you willing to join a battalion of death to save the constitution and government?"

Sumners told newspapermen he was not particularly referring in that sentence to the court fight or any other controversial issue.

"What I am getting at is fundamentals. I believe that the court controversy—as much as I tried to avoid it—has proven of far more good than injury in stirring up an interest in government and making the people think—getting them on the job."

"The time has come when individuals cannot consider the cost of themselves or their political fortunes. We are going to be at the top."

SEPTEMBER CORN "CORNER" AT END

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—As the September corn "corner" was relegated today to board of trade history, leaving only the controversy it aroused to be settled, grain traders discerned a lesson or two in its passing.

"Corners" have a habit of ending dismally, the grain trade's records show, and this one has no exception.

Besides arousing ill feeling among opposing interests and precipitating an unprecedented dispute between the exchange and some of its members, it created no rosy financial profit for anyone, except possibly a few processors and farmers who could take advantage of the high Chicago price for corn, traders said.

Buyers of September corn took delivery on 1,538,000 bushels of cash grain today and sellers thus completed the last act of winding up their accounts. There was no default. A default on market obligations is a high crime in the grain trade, punishable by expulsion.

Contracts involving 6,412,000 bushels were settled on the basis of $1.10 1/2 per bushel, established by directors when they suspended trading in September corn last Saturday because of the apparent "corner."

WENNERS DRUG STORE HELD UP BY TWO BANDITS

Unmasked Men Escape With Loot Estimated at Near $100

No definite information has been obtained by the police in the holdup of three employees of the Wenner Drug Store, Fourth street and Ohio avenue, about 11:45 o'clock Wednesday night by two unmasked bandits, who obtained approximately $100 in money from two cash registers.

The bandits, youthful, and fairly well dressed, went into the drug store about 11:20 o'clock. Both sat at the soda fountain and ordered "cokes." They drank them and waited the departure of several customers.

After the parties who had been sitting in a booth left one of the men walked over to Lon Klink, who was in charge and said he desired to buy a bottle of hair tonic. Mr. Klink crossed the store obtained the bottle, returned to the south side of the store and wrapped it up and as he handed it to the would-be customer, the man shoved a gun into his stomach.

He ordered Klink to open a cash register at the rear part of the store, and from this he obtained a small amount of money. He then ordered him to walk to the front part of the store and told him to open the cash register.

Complied and when the man saw but a small amount of change he asked Mr. Klink where the rest was. Mr. Klink told him in other drawers in the register and opened them up.

While Klink and the bandit were at the rear of the store the second man asked Miss Katherine Cooper, who is employed at the fountain for a package of cigarettes. After she gave him a package and he paid for them she insisted he pay the "mills." The man just stood and stared at her, and about this time Klink and the second bandit appeared at the front part of the store.

She knew then it was a holdup and stood still waiting for the men to make their exit. Charles Stroth, colored delivery boy, who walked in was detained by the bandit in front, at the point of a gun. Miss Cooper and Stroth neither were given any other orders at this time expect to stand still and not to get excited.

Klink was ordered by his "customer" to keep his head down and his hands at his side. At the front of the store the bandit, who appeared to be the "head man" said: "Keep your heads down, don't move, keep your hands at your side or we'll shoot."

After cleaning out the cash register, Klink, Miss Cooper and Stroth were ordered to the south front booth and told to sit there. Stroth sat on the west side of the table and watched the men leave. He said they turned north on Ohio avenue.

After they departed, Klink locked the front door, notified the police and then called Mr. Wenner. The victims said both were apparently about 23 years old and appeared to have been experienced "holdup men."

WOMAN INJURED IN CAR-TRUCK CRASH

An Oldsmobile sedan driven by Howard Davis, Negro, of Kansas City and a Chevrolet truck driven by L. Amende of Sedalia, collided at the intersection of Highway 50 and 65 (Linn avenue) about 12:30 o'clock this morning at which time a Negro woman, Lurine Williams, of Kansas City was injured. Her injuries are not believed serious.

According to a report made, both vehicles were being driven west on Highway 50 and it was said Davis started to pass the truck when it suddenly swerved south on Highway 65. In maneuvering to avoid striking the truck, Davis said, he tried to cut short and instead swerved in front of it.

The right side of the Oldsmobile was smashed and while it was not damaged to any great extent the woman was thrown to the floor of the car and an injury to her left hip resulted. It is not believed any broken bones were sustained.

In the car with Davis were the Williams woman, Ina Williams, Clara Reed, Eddie Richards, Marshall Miller and J. J. Jackson, who received a laceration on his right arm.

The truck was slightly damaged. Deputy Sheriff Clyde Coppers and Officers Joe Gresham and J. H. Brooks made an investigation.

The Williams woman is in Hospital No. 2, being removed from the accident there in an ambulance.

SEDALIANS SIGN SAFETY REGISTER ON WEDNESDAY

37,800 Persons Were Killed In Traffic Accidents In 1936

Two hundred citizens of Sedalia signed the "Safety Honor Roll" and became members of an organization to decrease the number of deaths caused by traffic accidents in the United States.

The Register was brought here by the Safety Caravan from Kansas City and a part of the National Safety Congress to be held in that city, October 1 to 15.

The caravan consisting of a "voice of safety" car of the Kansas City Police Department, a large truck built into a float advertising Safety on the highways which stated 37,000 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the year of 1936, had a State Highway Patrol car as an escort.

Upon arriving at the City Limits of Sedalia the caravan was met by Chief of Police John J. O'Brien in Sedalia's police car with Officer Emmett O'Brien, Fire Chief John Lueck in his automobile and Motorcycle Officer Herman Fischer who cleared the right-of-way for the cars.

They were driven to Ohio avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets and parked on the Court House side of the street. Here the officers placed a registration table with the large "Safety Honor Roll" register. During their visit more than 200 Sedalian's signed the register.

With the caravan were Sergeant Bert Weir of the Traffic Division of the Kansas City Police, Patrolman Tom Sullivan, Kansas City police officer, State Highway Patrolman H. D. Brigham and J. F. Jenkins of Troop A, Missouri Highway Patrol.

The officers stated they expected to have the 100,000 names by the time the National Congress is held in Kansas City.

PLANE REPORTED AS MISSING LANDS

KINGMAN, Ariz., Sept. 30.—A private tri-motored transport plane, missing almost 24 hours with three men aboard, landed safely here today after a blinding rainstorm had forced an emergency landing in the rugged mountain country.

Pilot Garland Lincoln, Hollywood stunt flyer, said rain and lightning had forced the plane down near Seligman, Ariz., 90 miles east of here, and the three spent the night in the ship.

The plane was not damaged, Lincoln said. Other occupants were Earl Hobson, mechanic, El Degundo, Calif., and H. B. Taylor, aviation enthusiast of Las Vegas, N. M.

Lincoln was taking the plane, which he purchased in Robinson, Mo., to California, for use in a forthcoming Hollywood aviation film.

JUSTICE BLACK TO SPEAK FRIDAY NIGHT BY RADIO

Presumably Will Make Statement Relative To Klan Charges

EXPECTED TO TAKE SEAT ON MONDAY

Jurist and Wife Spent Night With Relatives at Alexandria, Va.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Associate Justice Hugo L. Black, President Roosevelt's appointee to the supreme court, will speak to the nation over the radio tomorrow night—presumably to reply to allegations that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

National Broadcasting Company officials here announced that Black, who returned yesterday from a European vacation, would make his address over nation-wide radio facilities from 8:30 to 9 P. M., Central Standard Time.

Upon his arrival in Norfolk, Va., yesterday, the justice told two score newsmen that whenever he had any statement to make on the Klan charges he would "make it in a way that cannot be misquoted and so the nation can hear it."

Whether Black consulted with the President before making up his mind to give his side of the case over the air could not be learned, but few observers believed it likely that he had made his decision without presidential knowledge of his intentions.

The newly-named jurist and his wife spent last night at the home of Mrs. Black's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Durr, near suburban Alexandria, Va.

This morning Black was up early and left the residence. Friends indicated he might visit his office in the supreme court building later today.

Takes Seat Monday. There appeared to be no question that the justice would take his seat on the bench Monday when the court resumes after a summer recess.

The announcement that Black would speak over the radio was made by Kenneth H. Berkley, general manager of the Washington offices of the broadcasting company after the latter had talked with Durr.

Later it was announced the address also would be carried over the Columbia Broadcasting System and the Mutual Broadcasting Company network.

Upon his arrival yesterday, Black declined to answer a specific question as to whether he was or had been a member of the Klan. The charges against him have been, first, that he joined the Klan several years ago and was elected to the senate from Alabama in 1926 with Klan aid, and second, that he had been given a life membership in the organization.

Networks To Carry Broadcast. NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—All available stations of three coast to coast radio networks, NBC, CBS and WOR-MBS, will carry the broadcast by Justice Hugo L. Black of the supreme court on Friday night from 9:30 to 10 (Eastern Standard Time) officials said today.

A commercial program has been cancelled by NBC on the WEAF-red network so that this chain can be included with the WJZ blue, making the broadcast available to approximately 125 stations.

The broadcast will be offered to more than 100 CBS stations and approximately sixty WOR-MBS stations coast-to-coast.

"CREEPING DEATH" EXACTS HEAVY TOLL

TOKYO, Sept. 30.—The mysterious "creeping death," an epidemic which already has snuffed out nearly 300 lives in Fukuoka province, seeped through the hygienic barriers around the city of Omuta today into four neighboring communities, bringing 52 new cases.

Authorities, scoffing at the possibility water sources had been deliberately polluted, ceased announcing the death toll. The best bacteriologists of Japan were unable to diagnose the disease or state definitely its cause.

Word has been received in Sedalia the application of Mrs. Orear for the bond, made through Ray W. Hunt of the Sedalia Savings and Loan Association, had been accepted. The bond, it was stated, would arrive in Sedalia either Friday or Saturday.

The Pettis county court several days ago agreed on the security bond for which Mrs. Orear applied. Upon presenting this bond to the court they will immediately administer the oath of office.

LOUD SPEAKER TO BE OPERATED AT FOOTBALL GAME

Coach Davenport Speaks To Kiwanians on S.-C. Team

"A loud speaker system will be operated at the park during tonight's football game between Richmond and Sedalia high schools," Coach Donald Davenport told Kiwanians at their noon day meeting in Bothwell hotel today. "We don't know how successful it will be, but we will endeavor to explain the plays and give other football information as the game advances."

Bleachers have been erected on each side of the field, the speaker stated. On one side they will be reserved for students' only and on the other for adults only.

Mr. Davenport also talked about the team's possibilities and the difficulty in keeping the players in shape at practice sessions because of the hardness of the field at the high school.

Don A. Middleton spoke about rules and regulations governing new members.

The club voted to accept an invitation to attend a meeting with the Booneville club in their city the last Wednesday night in October. The invitation also includes wives of Kiwanians.

Guests present were Rotarian William E. Hurlbut, Jr., and his cousin, E. F. Kitchen, president of the Kiwanis club of Cornwell, Ga. Attendance prizes were received by Don Davenport and Walter J. Kennedy.

MANY PROJECTS OF PWA BE ABANDONED

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—A long list of PWA projects planned for Missouri apparently will have to be abandoned in view of President Roosevelt's announcement September 21 that no more money was to be allotted to the federal emergency administration of public works.

Harry J. McNeerney, acting state PWA director, said today of a list of 120 projects which were pending, only 49 have received allotments. Construction of these projects, 35 of them school buildings, probably will be the last work of the PWA in Missouri, he said.

They include 10 school buildings in Kansas City, for which $527,588 has been allotted, and three schools, an athletic field and an auditorium-gymnasium in Jefferson City, for which a grant of $246,494 has been approved.

Other large allotments which have been made are $107,848 to St. Charles for school buildings, $107,100 to Clayton for schools, $75,750 to Fulton for schools, $60,545 to Perryville for schools, and $50,040 to the state highway commission for an office building in Jefferson City.

In all, the 49 approved projects will be built at an estimated cost of $4,673,774, of which the federal government will pay $2,136,760 and local sponsors the remainder.

REV. ALLWELL STILL AWAITING FULL PAY

BRECKENRIDGE, Mo., Sept. 30.—(P)—The family of the Rev. Patrick Job Allwell, Methodist Episcopal minister who threatened a sit down strike by his wife and children in the parsonage unless his back salary was paid in full, left today to join Allwell at Sedalia.

When Mr. Allwell was appointed early this week to the Sedalia posts his family stayed in the Breckenridge parsonage and a sign on the porch announced the strike was on.

Mr. Allwell, assigned to serve the Good Will, Bethel and McGee chapels as pastor said today he had not received his pay in full, but was leaving the matter of remuneration up to the church he previously served. The family will reside at 1706 South Brown.

RETAIL SALES UP

While a normal upswing in business conditions throughout the nation may have its reflection in increased retail sales in Missouri during August, there are indications that an aggressive business policy backed up by consistent advertising and enterprise had a salutary effect on favorable reports of independent stores in the state.

Statistics prepared by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Washington, D. C., from data supplied by stores cooperating with the bureau, reveal that retail sales of 895 independent stores in Missouri showed an increase of 5 per cent in dollar volume for August, 1937, as compared with the same month of 1936. There were the same number of working days in August of both years.

Without adjustment for seasonal influences August sales in Missouri were 3 per cent above sales for July. There were the same number of working days in both months.

A breakdown on independent retail stores' percentage gains in August, 1937, compared with August, 1936, is as follows: jewelry, 16.4 per cent gain; women's specialty shops, 13.9 gain; shoes, 9.7 gain; florists, 9.2 gain; total furniture and household appliances, 7.7 gain; furniture, 6.8 gain; drug, 4.7 gain; family clothing, 1.9 gain; lumber and building material dealers, 1.8 gain; country general, 1.1 gain.

It is significant that examination of copies of the Southeast Missourian, Cape Girardeau, a town of 17,000 population indicated merchants carried on an advertising program during a dull month. The bureau's report for August discloses that Cape Girardeau had a 7 per cent increase in total sales over August of last year. Springfield reported the greatest increase—a gain of 18 per cent. Joplin's gain was 13 per cent.

TEST OF AMERICAN NEUTRALITY

From the Milwaukee Journal.

China is quick to protest against President Roosevelt's action in halting a government-owned ship at San Pedro and compelling it to leave a consignment of war planes intended for the Chinese armies on the California docks.

China says this will hurt her military campaign, which is equivalent to saying that America, in applying our new neutrality, is becoming unneutral. It is the charge that was predicted from any nation that was hit by our restrictions.

Japan, on the other hand, is reported as delighted with the action. And naturally. She does not have to depend on imports. What fails to reach the Chinese army will not fight against her. But this also is equivalent to saying, impliedly, that our neutrality is leading us into unneutral fields. We do not mean to, but we are helping Japan.

All this was foreseen and talked about when we were discussing our neutrality law. We think China has to some extent misunderstood. This first move was to prevent complications off the coast of China that would have involved a government-owned ship in conflict with the Japanese blockade. And on this ground, President Roosevelt was justified. He does not say that the planes cannot be shipped (if a private vessel will take them at its own risk).

But if we are going to have this new type of neutrality, we shall have to apply it regardless of who is helped or hurt.

Peanuts are not subject to common ailments.

MISS SENSE OF WRITTEN WORD

From the New York Sun.

Before his summer session class the other day Prof. Algernon De V. Tassin said that when he came to Columbia university to teach he learned that he was a slipshod reader. He said that the average person does not get the full, accurate meaning from a paragraph at first reading—"it is all a blur in his mind." For this condition he blamed educators, yet he admitted that a course in "appreciative reading" can be taught only to mature minds. He advised reading aloud to correct the habit of assuming that meanings are understood because we recognize words. He asserted that, unlike art and music, literature seldom has more than one accurate meaning. Ask Gertrude Stein.

Reading is a test of mind and temperament, but it seems impossible to devise a gauge that will disclose what different readers get from the printed page. A dozen persons may read Landon's lines: "I strove with none; for none was worth my strife. Nature I loved and, next to Nature, Art . . ." and each may find a different meaning, for many words have eel-like definitions. Reading speeds vary. What one memory retains literally, another sifts or fails to hold. But the greatest variation of all, as the average reader will tell Professor Tassin, is in the skill of writers in putting words on paper in such fashion that ideas are grasped at once, in proper order, without retracting and without reference to footnotes or dictionaries.

Dodge, 11; Sergeant J. Evans, 18; Sergeant W. A. Cue, 17; Corporal J. C. Fast, 16; Private Antes, 5.

ABOARD PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S TRAIN—At long last it can be told the real reason why the President is making his 6,000-mile trip from coast to coast.

The mystery was cleared up at Wheatland, in southeastern Wyoming, by the President himself during a five-minute stop in the little plains town. This was the explanation he gave the people who crowded around the rear platform. "Back in the dining-car, listening over a loud-speaker to what I am saying, are a couple dozen newspaper men. Now you know all about your country out here, but they don't. So this trip is for the purpose of educating the press."

Washington Senator Row
The President's visit in Washington is expected to have an ameliorating effect upon a secret feud which has been waxing bitter between the two Senators from this state.

They are Senator Bone and Schwellenbach, both Democrats, both strong backers of Roosevelt, and for a long while good friends. Back in the Capital, however, it has been an open secret that all during the last session they would hardly speak. Bone, who is the senior Senator, came to the Senate in 1932 and immediately established a reputation as a crusading progressive. Schwellenbach, who joined him in 1934, took lessons from Bone, worked closely with him, but soon was displaying a more forthright brand of progressivism.

More recently, Schwellenbach has been critical of his senior colleague and friend because of a Seattle radio station in which Bone is supposed to have an interest. Operated by Saul Haas, Collector of Customs and close friend of Bone, it has had its wattle jump up by the Federal Communications Commission, upon the representation of Boone.

Relations reached the breaking point between the two Senators when the Democrats elected a Floor Leader to succeed Joe Robinson. All of Roosevelt's supporters, including Schwellenbach, lined up for Barkley, but Bone insisted on voting for Pat Harrison. He almost jumped down Senator McAdoo's throat when asked to support the President's candidate.

Roosevelt considers both men extremely able and has expressed the private wish that they patch up their row.

Hard-Working First Lady
The First Lady is in the dining-car eating breakfast by 8 o'clock every morning. The President has his in bed. After the meal, and between stops, she works with Mrs. Malvina Schneider, her secretary, in the latter's compartment in the car adjoining the President's.

Attired in a plain shirtwaist and gray skirt, Mrs. Roosevelt, seated opposite Mrs. Schneider, dictates letters in reply to her heavy correspondence, which is brought to the train by special mail several times a day. The door of the compartment is open, and passersby along the corridor can see Mrs. Roosevelt busily at work.

In the afternoon Mrs. Roosevelt writes her daily newspaper column, which is sent by telegraph to the distributing syndicate, then finishes her mail. She dines with the President in the evening and retires early to her room to read before going to sleep.

Wrong Speech
Of the 10,000 or more people who watched the President make his back-platform speech at Cheyenne, none listened more intently than Senator Joe O'Mahoney.

It was a crucial occasion for Joe. At odds with the White House because of his opposition to the court bill and not invited to participate in the tour of his State, he had, nevertheless dashed a thousand miles by auto across the country to be on hand when the President arrived at his home town. A Cheyenne morning paper forecast a red-hot attack on the Supreme Court and thus, inferentially, a slap at Joe.

So Joe stood by the back platform, looking straight ahead and waiting for the worst. Of course, it never came. Roosevelt never had any intention of shaking the big stick at his party foes. His brief talk dealt with public works projects.

Diet and Health

by
DR. LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

DIET DOES INFLUENCE THE TEETH

The assertion, "A clean tooth never decays", which was the watchword of our fathers, has long since been discarded by serious students of dental disease.

Some people who keep their teeth scrupulously clean have cavities, while others with visibly dirty mouths remain free from caries.

The nutritional theory of the origin of dental decay has been widely proclaimed in the past few years. It is the theory that the soil is just as important as the seed. If you drop seeds on earth they will spring up, but not if you drop them on a cement sidewalk. No one denies that the activity of germs causes dental decay and cavities. But the question is how the germs get started. If your teeth are like the cement sidewalk, they will not grow. If, through poor nutrition, the surface of the tooth is soft or crumbling, the germ enters and causes destruction.

It was Mrs. Mellanby, in England, I believe, who first called attention to the influence of diet on the health of teeth. That was in 1915. Previously the idea was that acid formation broke down the surface of the enamel. Dr. W. D. Miller, an American dentist practicing in Berlin, advocated this origin most strongly. Various bacteria working on food particles can produce acids. "Nothing more than organic acids and bacteria are needed to account for all the phenomena of dental caries," was Dr. Miller's statement.

Vitamin D Necessary

Caries always is preceded by plaques of decalcification seen on the surface of the dried tooth as white spots. Such a plaque is probably the site of least resistance—of softening—due to nutritional failure. The tooth is made up largely of calcium and phosphorus. Dr. Sherman, the recognized authority on nutrition, says that "probably a larger proportion of the ordinary dietaries, both of adults and of children, can be improved by enrichment of calcium than in any other chemical element." To fix calcium and phosphorus, or, in other words, to allow calcium and phosphorus to be utilized by the body, the presence of Vitamin D is necessary in the diet.

Hanke, who has made extensive studies in dental caries and nutrition, believes, however, that since curvy is so destructive to teeth and gums, absence of Vitamin C is a prime factor.

Calcium is present in milk and cheese. Phosphorus is present in leafy vegetables, egg yolk, meats, grains and tubers. Vitamin D in Vitamin D milk and viosterol. Vitamin C in oranges and tomatoes. So it is easy to arrange a High Calcium, High Vitamin D Diet.

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, 6 to 8 ounces. Two glasses of milk or buttermilk. Anything else desired.

LUNCH—Fruit, vegetables, milk or buttermilk, an egg. Anything else desired.

DINNER—Tomato juice, 6 to 8 ounces. Meat or fish. Anything else desired. Thirty drops of viosterol at bedtime.

THE VILLIAN of every Indian summer is on hand once more, doing his dirty work. He has the arrogance of a dictator and combines the agility of a League of Nations delegate side-stepping issues with a ruthlessness that would do discredit to any pirate submarine.

He is the September fly—the smartest and meanest-minded insect that ever mistook a baldhead for a landing field. At the moment he is on the wing throughout these broad United States and he is harder to squish than that other noxious insect, the presidential bee.

Of the two, the presidential bee is far to be preferred. He buzzes only in political bonnets and leaves the average taxpayer severely alone. Not so with the September fly—everybody, and anybody is his meat.

June, July and August flies are bad enough. But they lack the zulle and appetite of the September fly. He's so crooked he can't look you in the eye with any of his—though he has thousands.

What makes the September fly such an aggravation is that he fools the entire human race into a false sense of flyless security and then pounces on his prey. He waits, hidden and unseen, until the first cool days of September.

The citizens, sniffling the fragrant breezes of early autumn and shivering in the chill of the autumnal equinox, figure winter is near at hand and down comes the screens—and in comes the September fly.

It doesn't matter if the screens are promptly replaced. Once inside a house the September fly is a guest for good. There is only one way to avoid the pest. Keep your screens up until Christmas.

One Minute Pulpit

Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles.—Proverbs 21:23.

READ THIS FIRST:

Mary Barrett, ambitious to become a dress designer, is in Paris where she has just obtained a small dress shop. Anetka, owner of a small dress shop, she had been recommended to Anetka by Mark Sutherland, American playboy and mutual friend who admired Mary from the first following their meeting on shipboard. Mary likes Mark but misses Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York shop, who has been her client several months previously. She left Castle's shop suddenly, disillusioned, after an afternoon when Tony had been a buyer, Francine Long, and sailed for Paris impulsively. More and more she realizes she is in love with Tony.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.)

CHAPTER 13

IN LATE September Mark Sutherland was returning to America.

Mary drove out to the airdrome with him and bid him farewell with a mixture of relief and regret.

She'd known him for less than two months but those had been crowded months. For all that she had never felt that Mark had a genuine measure of her liking, she was deeply grateful to him. She had many reasons for being grateful; Mark had made it possible for her to find a niche in the world that she wanted; he had made her introduction to Paris a gay and unforgettable one. When he left, she knew she would miss him, would find time for the thoughts that she had been able to crowd out of her mind.

They'd done everything there was to do in Paris, at least the things that it was possible for two young, gay companions. They'd seen the revues, dined in famous and in out-of-way places. They'd danced at the Embassy, the Lido and the Ermitage Muscovite. They'd gone to the Moulin Rouge and Bal Tabarin. She'd seen Mark play polo at the beautiful field at the Saint Cloud Country club, and screamed herself hoarse at his side the night they went to Wonderland to see the boxing matches.

Together they'd been swimming in the incredibly beautiful pool at Claridge's, watched Pelote at Montrouge beyond the Porte d'Orleans.

He'd bought books for her at the stalls that lined the Seine, presented her with quaint bouquets bought from the bright-eyed old ladies who added so much color to those ambling adventures.

He'd given a party for Mary and Kate and Ellen.

Yes, she would miss him. But she was relieved that he was departing, for these were days and nights when it took all the energy she had to make order out of chaos in her new life.

Her days were humble ones, filled with the tasks attendant on her desire to prove of worth to Anetka; days that ended in fatigue so great that she had little spirit for doing the things she wished to do.

If, in what seemed like another life to her now, she had gone back to the studio apartment on the East river to spend her evenings dreaming happily of her future, it was a different kind of dreaming. Less practical and more heart-warming, the first had been. But the routine was the same.

Lying in the huge old-fashioned bed with sketches and notebook beside her at the end of the days during that first September, she didn't dream; she planned.

And during those days, let us look at her. Mary Barrett with the copper curls, less cared for, brushed away from her face and pinned neatly to keep them out of her eyes. Her eyes are often harassed. There is so much to do. Trying to accomplish three things at once. Anetka wants her tea made, a scone toasted. The tinkling bell announces that someone is on her way up the narrow stairs. Gabrielle cannot be trusted to see that the gas is turned off under the iron on the stove which waits for Mary to press the orchid organza with loving strokes.

Anxious to please. And more importantly, anxious to accomplish much. Eager hands skillfully plying a needle with the tiniest of stitches; snatching a precious sketch before it is lost under a bolt of fabric, wielding a dust brush carefully over the clattering objects in the "showroom".

Feet in sensible shoes taking hurried steps from workshop to front room, running errands to find a piece of fabric.

That was Mary Barrett at the end of September when Mark Sutherland flew to London and thence sailed to America—Mark, to whom she owed more than she knew.

But it was a changed Mary Barrett you would have seen in Anetka's shop by the end of November. It was a changed shop, and that was Mary's doing.

There was the same furniture, covered now neatly with tete de negre and turquoise slip covers. No longer were there hassocks to trip over, dusty bolts of fabrics to be moved. The glass over the photographs shone cleanly in the light. The mirrored wall was polished. Deep yellow silk lampshades cast a golden, flattering glow over the room.

And at the now tidy and business-like desk in the corner, Mary Barrett, in a black silk apron, bends over an account book, wets the point of her pencil with her tongue, and grins satisfactorily.

For an instant she frowns, trying to remember which of the three seamstresses has been assigned to Mrs. Hartman's beige jersey. She makes a quick decision to tell M. du Lac that unless he gives her a professional discount, Anetka will no longer purchase her trivium from him. And she really must scold Anetka; she shouldn't have tried to sell that shade of green to the jaundiced Mrs. Poole. Mary regretted running off at tea time the day before. When she wasn't there, Anetka was sure to make some stupid error, like charging so little for the blouse that would have brought at least 300 francs.

"Pleee! Mademoiselle!" Mary looked up from her accounts, followed Gabrielle into the workshop. Mrs. Hartman's beige jersey was ready for her inspection. She turned it inside out, studied the finish on the seams, gave it back to Madelon with instructions to remove a pucker.

The bell tinkled, was followed by Anetka's welcoming voice. Busy with scrutiny of a piece of fur which had arrived a few minutes before, Mary paid no heed. In a moment she sighed, and put it on the table, slipped off her apron, patted her hair.

Anetka's voice called to her: "Cherie! Marie! Come please. Madame Alleeng wishes to consult with you!"

She picked up her large sketch pad and soft pencil, parted the curtains and saw with a proprietary eye that at last she had trained the maid to dust properly. "How do you do, Mrs. Alleing. This is the daughter you promised to bring to us? . . . But, of course, she is quite right! She should wear pink with her lovely Titian hair! Now, I think something Grecian . . ."

She picked up her sketch pad, sketched lightly, quickly. "Something not sophisticated for such a young girl, but something elegant."

While her pencil raced over the page, she studied the faces of her audience and turned to the girl. "You like it?"

Janice loved it. Her mother liked it, Mary saw at once. "In tulle, perhaps?"

"First fitting Wednesday," Mary said and made it sound like the conferring of a favor. "The price will be 1,500 francs. . . . No, I'm afraid we can't finish it in less than a fortnight."

She hid her smile as she bent over her appointment book, knowing the expression that Anetka couldn't hide. She must teach her not to look so startled when she mentioned prices beyond Anetka's wildest dreams, or when she said they couldn't finish it in less than a fortnight when Anetka knew they could do it in three days. She must teach Anetka a little psychology.

In one month it was no longer untrue that they couldn't fill orders in less than two weeks.

Two days before Christmas, Anetka said, "Marie, I have a most wonderful surprise for you! I am going to make you my partner!"

I LIKE—

I LIKE old friends and I like new friends—they give stability to life.

I like to see young green shoots popping out of the earth—they encourage me to have faith in the future.

I like to receive letters (signed ones) that blow me up about something I've written—they keep me on my toes.

I like dogs—they have such a good time and don't ask for much.

I like happy young people, who take life seriously but not gloomily—that's the way they ought to be.

I like laughter—my own tendency is to be too solemn about little things.

I like beauty—it's the final deft touch on things that proves the genius of nature.

I like cheerful old ladies—to me they usually seem wiser than the old men.

I like dignity—the dignity of tall, strong trees, the dignity of an old horse, the dignity of an able man who has done a good job and cannot help knowing it. . . . But the puffed up dignity of the hollow man is quite another matter.

I like water—to me it is the most magical stuff on earth, fluid but powerful, changeable, but permanent, a living miracle.

I like beginnings and endings, parting and coming together again, ups and downs, joys and sorrow. . . . Though I may yowl when I'm hurt, in my heart I know there must be shape to life, and a dull life is a bad one, and no life at all for a human being.

The Smithton Home Economics Extension club met with group 9 at the home of Mrs. J. J. Lamm with Mesdames F. D. Muschany, J. E. Muschany, Ernest Selken and E. S. Coffman assisting hostesses.

The morning program was given by Mrs. Claire Montgomery with a very clear explanation of foundation garments and the care of them and a general discussion of the various problems many have. At noon a delicious contributed lunch was served to the 45 members and four visitors who were Mrs. Frank Leach, Mrs. Ira De Haven and Mrs. Ernest Schlobohm and children and Miss Emma Monsees.

Roll call was answered by telling the "high spot" in our vacation. After a business session Mrs. Leach read a "Phantasy on Wild Flowers" which was delightful.

Then as speaker guest Mrs. Landon Welch gave us a very instructive talk on planting bulbs this fall.

Then just before adjourning a handkerchief shower was given Mrs. George Reedy who with Mr. Reedy are going to the state of California to make their home near their children.

The next meeting will be with group 10 and handwork will be the particular subject of the meeting.

TO STUDY BRAIN OF PATRICIA MAGUIRE

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The brain of Patricia Maguire was treasured by medical science today for its potential value in opening new channels for the treatment of sleeping sickness.

From microscopic study of the organ physicians hoped to gain more knowledge of lethargic encephalitis—the baffling ailment which kept the 32 year old stenographer in a 67 months' slumber.

Dr. Eugene Traut disclosed a post mortem provided only one new discovery which, he said, "may be the first step toward control of the disease."

Physicians found the frontal lobe of the girl's brain, which controls speech and the movements of the tongue, head and eyes, had withered.

Dr. Traut said the atrophied condition never before resulted from sleeping sickness.

"We know," Dr. Traut said, "that sleeping sickness is caused by a virus. I hope by freezing the brain and by careful study to find that virus. When it is found, only then can we study the way to attack it."

Funeral services for the suburban Oak Park "sleeping beauty" will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday with a requiem high mass at the Ascension Roman Catholic church, a few blocks from her home.

JAPANESE MAKE CONTENTION AIR RAIDS NECESSARY

Claim Bombings Aimed at Military Establishments In China

By The Associated Press.

TOKYO, Sept. 30.—The Japanese government today countered a firm American protest against the "unwarranted" bombardment of Nanking with the declaration that air raids to destroy the base of resistance at the Chinese capital were strategically necessary.

The short Japanese reply to the United States note of September 22 was presented to Ambassador Joseph Grew and forwarded to the state department in Washington. The foreign office said that identical copies were handed to the British and French representatives in Tokyo. Both nations entered similar representations.

The formal American protest, made after verbal representations against Japan's announced intention to subject the Chinese capital to a mass aerial bombardment, charged the attacks were "unwarranted and contrary to principles of law and humanity."

The Japanese reply told Ambassador Grew that "as your government knows full well," Nanking is the base of China's military operations and reiterated the declaration of Japan's purpose to bomb military establishments both "in and out of the city."

Japan asserted she did not intend to cause damage to noncombatants and had already avowed it was her policy to respect the lives and property of citizens of other nations.

The American protest also informed Japan she would be held fully responsible for any damage which might be suffered by Americans and to this Japan replied her intentions were "as stated in a letter dated August 31."

'WE WILL HAVE TO FIGHT THE WORLD TO KEEP NEUTRAL'

Clark Speaks Before International Law Section of Bar Association

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30.—(P) Senator Bennett C. Clark of Missouri told members of the International Law section of the American Bar Association Wednesday the only way the United States could maintain its neutral rights in the event of another world war would be to "fight the world".

Urging strict adherence to the neutrality law which prohibits shipment of munitions and war materials to belligerents, Senator Clark said that so far as conduct of warfare was concerned there no longer was any such thing as international law.

"There is in the world today no body of law between nations which can be enforced against any nation which chooses to violate the agreement."

It was dependence on international law, Clark said, which led the United States to make large sales of munitions and other supplies to belligerents in the early days of the world war, and which led directly to incidents which brought on American participation in the war.

"I believe the United States can stay out of the next war if it really wants to and if it understands what is necessary to preserve neutrality and is willing to pay the price."

Pointing out both England and Germany violated the United States' neutral rights in the early stages of the last war, Senator Clark said:

"Let us not claim as a right what is an impossibility. The only way we can maintain our neutral rights is to fight the whole world. Failing that, we only pretend to enforce our neutral rights against one side and go to war to defend them against the same side."

The present era, Senator Clark said, has changed from a post war era to a prewar era and the bad temper of a dictator, the ineptness of a diplomat or the crime of a fanatic may start another conflict.

"Let us announce to the world we have determined upon a policy of real neutrality designed to prevent us from being entangled in their quarrels."

THREAT TO THROW FRENCH FRONTIER TO SPAIN OPEN

League Sub - Committee
Drafts Alternative To Present Mussolini

By The Associated Press.
GENEVA, Sept. 30.—A League of Nations sub-committee was understood today to have reached a fateful decision to present Premier Mussolini with the alternative of withdrawing his Italian volunteers from the Spanish civil war or seeing the French frontier thrown open to arms and men for the Spanish Valencia government.

A delegate who left the session of the committee drafting a resolution on the Spanish civil conflict reported the draft resolution does not refer to the "foreign aggression" which Spain had charged against Italy, but rather to "foreign intervention."

The resolution was said to declare if the withdrawal of foreign combatants is not made effective within one month's time, the signatories of the non-intervention agreement are "invited to envisage" a return to a policy based on international law.

This was interpreted by the committee members to mean complete abandonment of the entire non-intervention policy, enabling the Spanish government to obtain war materials wherever it wished.

The French were reported to have given the Spanish delegation assurances that the frontier would be opened in the event volunteers were not withdrawn.

The one month delay was said to have been provided to enable Britain and France to carry on negotiations with Italy during which they hope to persuade Mussolini to withdraw his troops.

The resolution must be submitted to the league assembly for adoption before it becomes effective. This step will probably be taken Saturday.

The draft of the resolution contained eight paragraphs, of which the following was an unofficial summary:

1. Points out the "duty of every state to respect the territorial integrity and political independence of other states."

2. Affirms that "every state is under obligation to refrain from intervening in the internal affairs of another state."

3. Recalls that "special undertakings" have been entered into "for the purpose of limiting the Spanish conflict and thereby safeguarding the general peace."

4. Regrets that the non-intervention committee "not only has failed to secure the withdrawal of non-Spanish combatants, but that there now must be recognized the existence of a veritable foreign army corps which represent foreign intervention in Spanish affairs."

5. Observes that the (league) council on May 29 termed the non-intervention agreement the "most effective remedy for a situation the gravity of which, from the standpoint of general peace, it feels bound to emphasize."

6. Earnestly trusts that "diplomatic action recently undertaken by certain powers will be successful in securing immediate and complete withdrawal of non-Spanish combatants taking part in the struggle in Spain."

7. Appeals to "governments which must all equally desire to see peace maintained in Europe to undertake a new and earnest effort in this direction" and observes that "if such a result could not be obtained in the near future, the assembly invites all states concerned, which are members of the non-intervention committee, to envisage the end of the non-intervention policy."

8. Requests the council to "follow attentively the development of the situation in Spain, in view of provisions of article 11 of the league covenant and take any opportunity which may arise to seek a basis for pacific ending of the conflict."

At Paris, a plan for Italian participation with France and Britain in the Mediterranean anti-air patrol was signed today by naval experts of the three nations and was to be submitted immediately to their governments for approval.

The plan provided that each nation be confined to protection of waters in which it is the most interested—with Italy allotted the Tyrrhenian sea around Sardinia as well as her own extensive coast line and the coast of her African colony, Libya.

Two Thousand More Chinese Rush To Front

Russia's future course in the undeclared Sino-Japanese war, Bogogloff was expected to arrive in Moscow today.

Near Shantung Province
Japanese reported their advance in north China had carried them through eastern Hopei province to within 15 miles of the border of Shantung province. They asserted the column operating out of Tientsin had captured Tungkwansien, 95 miles south of that headquarters of the Japanese north China expeditionary force.

The Japanese assaulted the Chinese Shanghai lines on a 5-mile front today all the way from the Chapei sector just north of the international settlement to Lihong and Lotien.

Chinese asserted that their lines had not bulged a foot under the tremendous pressure and a tour of the Chinese lines in Chapei found them dug in deeper than ever and showing no sign of weakening.

During the five weeks of fighting, since the Japanese first established a beach head at Woosung, 12 miles down the Whangpoo river, they have advanced approximately seven miles into the interior. The gain has been made only at tremendous cost of men and munitions as they fought every foot of the rice paddy terrain.

A fleet of Chinese junks, loaded with stones, was taken up the Yangtze river 80 miles north of Shanghai to the Kiangyin forts where they will be sunk in order to strengthen the present barrier there against attacks by Japanese warships.

While Japanese warplanes were bombing the entire Shanghai front all the way from the north station to Lihong, similar raids were in progress on Chinese troop concentrations at the secondary positions on the Nanziang-Kiating line.

Airdromes Bombed
Chinese airdromes at Soochow, Ningpo, Hangchow and Chinghai on a radius roughly 100 miles from Shanghai were also bombed, a Japanese spokesman announced.

During the battle impressive rites for Japanese soldiers killed in action on the Shanghai front were held in the little Nishihong temple in the Japanese-occupied Hongkew area.

Around the altar, almost covering three sides of the wall, were tiers of urns containing the ashes of the dead. Each was draped in white cloth and marked with the name, rank and unit of the dead soldier. After the ceremony, they were taken aboard a hospital ship to be taken to Japan for burial in Buddhist cemeteries.

At Hongkong systematic destruction of scores of Chinese junks at Swatow was reported by the Central (Chinese) News Agency.

Japanese from three warships seized and burned the junks yesterday, the agency said.

Twenty fishermen arriving in Hongkong today told of a submarine appearing near Nofung September 22, ordering them to abandon their junks and then sinking them with shell fire.

The Chinese fishermen were adrift for four days before being picked up.

An informed source at London announced British colonial authorities at Hongkong had opened an official inquiry into the reported sinking of junks.

Some 300 Chinese lives were said to have been lost in the attack on the vessels, many of which were reportedly under Hongkong registry and, consequently, British protection.

GIANTS CAPTURE PENNANT WITH HUBBELL VICTORY

Championship Gives Club
Opportunity To Play
Yanks In Series

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—Giving King Carl Hubbell the honor of clinching the pennant, the New York Giants today won their second straight National League championship by topping the Phillies 2 to 1 behind the five-hit pitching of their great lefthander.

It was the Giants' 15th league championship and their third under the management of Bill Terry, who was not with the club today, being confined to his room in New York by illness.

Hubbell had a four-hit shutout in his grasp with two out in the ninth, when Dolph Camilli clouted a pitch over the right field wall for a homer. That was the only threat against the southpaw ace through out the game, as his mates staked him to a run in the first and another in the third off Claude Passeau.

Both runs were scored by Dick Bartell scored one run and Jojo Moore the other. Both were driven in by Johnny McCarthy.

The pennant-winning victory clinched a Giant drive similar to the surge they made to take last year's title. In third place on June 25, they began the rally which did not end until they came in with the crown. During that stretch they won 60 games and lost only 29.

Frank M. DeJarnett, 74 years old, pioneer resident of Sedalia and Pettis county, died suddenly of hemorrhage in the Bell Memorial hospital in Kansas City, Kas., at 10:40 o'clock this morning.

Mr. DeJarnett will be remembered as operator of a bar at Main street and Kentucky avenue. He was engaged in that business until prohibition at which time he bought a farm south of Sedalia. His home, though, has always been at 1320 South Harrison avenue.

Mr. DeJarnett had been in Kansas City with his son, Siebe DeJarnett, for a month, the last two weeks of which he spent in taking treatment in the hospital. His wife, Mrs. Emma DeJarnette, preceded him in death by three years.

Besides his son, Siebe DeJarnett, Mr. DeJarnett is survived by four brothers, J. M. DeJarnett, Sedalia; Sig DeJarnett, route 3, Sedalia; Millard DeJarnett, Waverly, Kas.; Willis DeJarnett, of Nebraska; five sisters, Mrs. C. J. Drake, route 3, Sedalia; Mrs. Alice Williams, Knob Noster; Mrs. Winnie Wise, Walnut Grove, Calif.; Mrs. Dollie O'Daniel, Big Horn, Wyo.; Mrs. Ed Simmons, Ross, Wyo.; one granddaughter, Margaret DeJarnett, Gasconade, Mo.

Gillespie's hearse left this afternoon for Kansas City to bring the body to their funeral home where funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

On today's trip the president left American territory for the first time since his inter-American peace conference visit to Buenos Aires, last November-December.

It also was his second good-will trip to Canada in 14 months. July a year ago he went to Quebec after a sailing cruise around Nova Scotia and held up his western hemisphere "good neighbor" policy as an example for the rest of the world.

A royal salute from guards of honor was to signalize the president's arrival at Victoria.

Lieut. Gov. E. W. Hamber, as the representative of His Majesty, the King, had arranged to go aboard the Phelps with a welcoming committee of provincial, civic and garrison officials.

Then the schedule called for a drive to government house, official residence of the lieutenant-governor for luncheon.

W. R. McClary, of Kansas City, state organizer for the Fraternal Order of Eagles, is in Sedalia and has started organizing a lodge of Eagles in Sedalia and Pettis County, which newly formed organization will probably hold their first meeting the first part of November.

Mr. McClary stated he expected there will be 200 charter members in the local lodge. At the first meeting one of the outstanding Eagles of the country Conrad H. Mann, managing organizer, former president of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce will be on hand to assist in installation.

It is planned to have downtown lodge rooms where meetings will be held regularly.

PRESIDENT IN A GOOD WILL TRIP ACROSS BORDER

Second Journey Into Canada
In Period of Fourteen Months

By The Associated Press.
SEATTLE, Sept. 30.—President Roosevelt left American shores for a "good will" visit to Victoria, B. C., sailing on the destroyer Phelps in a pelting gusty rainstorm today. He will return to the United States at Port Angeles, Wash., before midnight.

Stormy weather tonight and tomorrow was forecast for the Olympia peninsula area, the planned itinerary. Southeast storm warnings were ordered raised at all weather stations on the sound and along the coast.

The president was to spend the night at Lake Crescent, in the wilderness of northern peninsula country, and drive 200 miles tomorrow, encircling the peninsula to Tacoma before returning to his special train.

The president, refreshed by two nights and a day of rest after his cross-country trip, breakfasted at the Lawtonwood home of Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger, his son-in-law and daughter. A two-mile drive through the residential district took them to the pier at Smith Cove where they boarded the Phelps.

On today's trip the president left American territory for the first time since his inter-American peace conference visit to Buenos Aires, last November-December.

peak of the governmental crisis in two or three years. We've got to balance the budget, decentralize the government and make the people shoulder the responsibility of government.

"It's like the psychology of going over the top. I don't think we are going over the precipice but we are approaching the crisis," he concluded.

Summers talked to reporters as he was climbing into his automobile this morning.

The so-called Black resolution was rejected by the resolutions committee because "there is nothing now pending in respect of which the association could take any effective action if it undertook the inquiry proposed."

Last Point of Business
The committee merely recommended "the resolution be not adopted."

Its consideration was set as the last point of business among the dozen resolutions awaiting action.

The convention customarily follows committee recommendations. In his extemporaneous speech late last night Summers said:

"Governments are not accidents. Anglo-Saxon history has been free of dictators because the Anglo-Saxons have developed a genius for detecting emergencies and moving rapidly to meet them. We never have had a Hitler or a Mussolini in Anglo-Saxon government because we have always followed principles, not leaders.

"The people learn to govern by governing. The reason why we are in a fix now is because the people turned their back on government and couldn't be bothered. When the people quit thinking about government, someone else does the thinking for them and charges so much per think."

"When we came to write our constitution, it was perfectly natural that we should write into the constitution these great provisions of human liberty, that come down through the ages, developing out of necessity, tried by experience among a people peculiarly gifted with a genius for self-government."

"So we do have a constitution that has come through the ages, every single provision tested by experience, originating out of necessity. That is what we have got to preserve."

"How are we going to preserve it? Are we going to preserve it on these Fourth of July occasions, worshipping at the shrine of our ancestors merely? The only way we can preserve it is by emulating their example."

"What are we going to do about it? That is what I am going to talk to you about. I wouldn't give a hoot for these resolutions and these big speeches. What are you going to do about it? Are you willing to join a battalion of death to save the constitution and this form of government?"

"I believe we are going to win, probably; I am not sure. I believe so. I have been coming home, feeling out the people, talking to the people and it is my judgment that within the last three years there has come a regeneration in the American people that has no equal in human history."

Resolutions adopted by the assembly, which is open to the full membership, must go to the house of delegates, the legislative body, for its action.

Robert Lee Tullis, 73-year-old former law school dean of Louisiana State University, and author of the Black resolution, declared membership in a "secret, out-bound order, actuated by religious and racial animosity" incompatible with membership in the supreme court and asked a five-man committee to learn "the relevant facts" about the new justice.

SEASONABLE FOOD SUGGESTIONS

RIPE, GRAPE JELLY

IS SOMETHING NOT MADE BY "HEIRLOOM" RECIPES BY ALICE BLAKE

Every woman has a soft spot in her heart for certain heirlooms! The priceless old furniture, for instance, that was handed down through the generations — we wouldn't part with it for love or money. But heirloom jelly recipes are something else entirely — they're treasured carefully, as relics of the past, but good cooks today certainly wouldn't think of using them.

Never, never did yesterday's jellies capture the true spirit of the grape, for the ancient recipes specify varying degrees of under-ripeness or a combination with high-pectin fruits. The riper your grapes, you know, the less its ability to jell. You need modern, scientific instructions to produce a perfect spread with a ripe-fruit flavor!

It's one of our national cooking traditions that grape jelly is the nation's favorite—and more is made than any other kind. Here's one of those new recipes for grape jelly that tastes exactly like sun-ripened grapes just parted from the vine—today's own contribution to the joy of eating!

Ripe Grape Jelly
5 cups (2½ lbs.) juice.
6½ cups (2½ lbs.) sugar
1 box Sure-Jell.
To prepare juice, steam about 3½ pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add 1½ cups water, bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure juice into a 5 to 6 quart saucepan, filling up last cup with water if necessary; place over hottest fire, stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Venison Jelly
4 cups (2 lbs.) juice
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare juice, stem 3 pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add ½ cup apple vinegar, 1 teaspoon cloves, and 2 teaspoons cinnamon. Bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly.

FOOD AND MARKET BASKET

FOR RELEASE FRIDAY Oct. 1.

SAUSAGE AIRS
By Martha Logan

Remember those gay childhood days when you would dress up in mother's clothes? Her long skirts, soft furs, big hats, and high-heeled shoes always gave you "airs." It was fun to escape to those fairy-lands of make-believe because it was so different. We craved "different" things.

Now we're grown, we can't play make-believe but we can put on "airs" when it comes to our task of menu planning by introducing new dishes to the family.

The savory, satisfying heartiness of pure pork sausage is an answer to help create "menu airs."

Many women are considered excellent cooks yet they seldom include sausage in their menus. Perhaps the reason is they are unaware of what airs sausage can add to the plainest dish or what sophistication it can assume in luncheon or dinner roles.

Some of the tempting simple luncheon or supper suggestions for sausage are:

Grilled sausage with fruit fritters.

Sausage with Whole Wheat Nut Waffles and Peach Preserve.

Sausage with Fresh Raisin Toast and Strained Honey.

Broiled Sausage Luncheon.

For convenience, prepare this all

Martha Logan Suggests - - - - - Swiss Steak

Perhaps no other name in meat cookery has been more abused than that of Swiss Steak. To be true to its name this should be one of the most tender, flavorful, and delicious of all the many ways of preparing beef steak. Here are several "musts" to insure a superior product. Buy a thick cut (2 inches is best) of beef round, rump, or shoulder steak. Use a Frenching hammer or firm-edged tool to pound the meat and seasoning into the meat. This scores the fibres, absorbs the juices and makes the characteristically good gravy. And last, but perhaps the most important direction, is to cook very slowly for a long time. Remember a Swiss Steak should be easily cut with a fork.

Swiss Steak
4 1/2 pounds round steak
1 cup flour
2 tablespoons salt
1 pound onions

2 tablespoons lard
1 pint canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce

Rub both surfaces of the meat with salted flour. French. Turn, add flour and French again until steak takes up all the flour.

Fry sliced onions in lard. Brown steak in lard. Lay slices of onion on steak. Add tomatoes and Worcestershire Sauce. Cover and cook slowly 2 to 3 hours.

(Taste for additional seasoning.) Mix thoroughly and use to fill the green pepper shells, which have been parboiled. Bake in shallow pan in moderate oven (350° F.) until peppers are tender.

Tomatoes or onions may be substituted for green peppers.

A change of seasons always brings a change of appetites. Fall and winter appetites will respond favorably to these dinner suggestions.

Sausage Lamb Grill
6 Kidney Lamb Chops
12 Link Pork Sausages
6 strips bacon
6 rings pineapple
6 apricot halves
Whole cloves

Insert a whole clove in the center of each apricot half, then place on a pineapple ring. Broil this with the lamb chops, sausage and bacon. Serve with a green vegetable, such as green string beans.

Italian Sausage Skillet
1 pound bulk pork sausage
2 minced onions
1 cup rice or spaghetti, uncooked
1 1/2 cup canned tomatoes
1/2 cup chili sauce or catsup
Fry onion and sausage together until brown, then pour off excess fat. Add rice, which has been cooked, tomatoes, and chili sauce. Blend well. Cover, cook over a very low fire for 30 minutes. Do not raise cover.

Pure pork sausage has a distinctive goodness—a flavor that millions favor.

Dr. Dafoe Reports Dionne Quins Thriving on Quaker Oats!

Famous Doctor Prescribes Breakfast of Great Americans for Dionne Quins, Now in Their 4th Year!

"TODAY OUR HEALTHY DIONNE QUINS HAD QUAKER OATS"

Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe

QUAKER OATS BRACES-UP NERVES & DIGESTION!

FAMOUS QUINS ACT LIKE "LITTLE LADIES"

The famous "little women" of Canada, the Quins, are being taught to act like little ladies. They are an almost perfect picture of decorum when they sit at the dinner table with their nurses, all five trying hard not to play with their spoons nor to be too noisy nor too anxious to eat.

And they are learning, too, that putting toys away after play is just one of those "musts" that they can't escape. But, most interesting of all, each little Quin is learning to hang up her own clothes as soon as she removes them.

It is true that no phase of the Quins' training is being neglected. And it is likewise true that no phase of their diet is being overlooked. For instance, the cereal selected for the five Dionnes was oatmeal. For oatmeal with milk is considered a fine source of food-energy body-building minerals, muscle-building protein and Vitamin B. Vitamin B is important in combating those childhood dangers—namely, constipation, nervousness and poor appetite when they are due to lack of sufficient Vitamin B. Therefore, when you select a cereal think of the Dionne Quins who eat Quaker Oats every day.

Hints on Etiquette
It is discourteous to receive an invitation from one person and acknowledge it to another.

Custards that curdle are often a bother. The temperature of the water over which they are cooked and the time of cooking are the details to watch here. Water under the custard should be hot, but not boiling. And the custard should be cooked just until it coats the spoon, is rather thin, and it thickens some on cooling.

Now..this Bread, Baked in AIR-CONDITIONED OVENS

SAY! THIS IS EVEN BETTER THAN THE BREAD MOTHER USED TO MAKE.
IT'S BAKED IN AIR-CONDITIONED OVENS--THAT'S WHY.

Mrs. Amy C. Dolloff, Twice Chosen As Bread Baking Champion
At New England's Topham Fair, Says:
"Air-conditioned Taystee Bread is the 'discovery of the year.' Not even home-made bread is any more delicious or tender."
Mrs. Amy C. Dolloff Topham, Maine

Will Give You A New Conception Of How Delicious Bread Can Really Be

Now comes a new taste thrill that will give you a new conception of how truly delicious bread can be! It is called Taystee Bread. And it is baked in air-conditioned ovens where temperature and moisture are scientifically controlled. It is not subject to dry heat. For dry heat has a "parching" effect on bread. It not only acts to toughen the crust, but also tends to drive flavor out. Air-conditioned baking, on the other hand, avoids this "parching" effect. As a result, flavor is greatly enhanced. You get bread that is really fresh, really tender—with a doubly tender crust. And you'll find that it stays fresh longer than bread baked in less modern ways. So next time ask your grocer for Taystee Bread. When you buy it, feel it in the package. Note how much more tender it is. . . . When you get it home, examine it and see what a delicate, lacy texture it has. Then taste it—and see how much more it tastes like home-made bread! Like thousands of other women, you'll say it's the finest bread you ever had in the house . . . why not order a loaf today!

GIANTS PROBABLY CLINCH PENNANT IN GAMES TODAY

Yankees In Few Remaining Games Tune Up For Big Series

BY SID FEDER Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the day the Giants probably will clinch the National League pennant.

There doesn't seem to be any way out of it. The probability is they'll take at least one game of their doubleheader with the down-trodden Phillies, and thus hang onto the flag. If they don't, there's always the possibility the Cubs will drop one to the collapsible Cincinnati Reds—and that will do just as well.

As matters now stand, any "combination of one" will turn the trick. And since the Giants haven't lost a doubleheader all season, there's no reason for them to start now, when the chips are down and the stakes are high.

Heading into what is probably the last day of the pennant races, with the Giants 3 1/2 games ahead this is the way things stand:

Club	W	L	Games to play
Giants	92	55	5
Cubs	90	60	4

Thus, even if the Giants should lose all their remaining games, the Cubs still would have to take four in a row to make it anything but a nickel series for little old New York.

Yesterday, the Giants, after winning the opener of a double bill with the Phils, 6-3, with Cliff Melton taking his 20th victory, needed only one win to clinch the flag. But the small matter of a homer with the bases loaded in the first inning, and some fancy flinging by Lefty Lamaster gave the Phils a 6-5 edge in the nightcap. Meantime, the Cubs, playing the million-to-one shot down to the wire, whipped the Reds, 3-0, on the strength of a seventh coat of whitewashing applied by Tex Carleton.

The Yankees, tuning up their siege guns for the world series, bombarded the Athletics, 15-4, with a 16-hit attack in the first game of their bargain bill. But young Edgar Smith, a southpaw, blanked them 3-0 with one lone hit in the afterpiece, which was called in seven innings.

FAUROT RESORTS TO 'VETS' FOR THE LINE 'CRACKING'

Hint Dropped Boulder May Be In For Plenty In Tigers Clash

By The Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 30—Coach Wesley Fry and his 31 Kansas State Wildcats were riding out of the west today, carrying the Big Six banner to Boston, easternmost of the far-flung and troublesome fronts on which the six schools perform in non-conference football games this week-end.

Fry wouldn't quite predict a victory. The closest he came was to remark that if his team had a week more of practice he would forecast a defeat for Boston college. The only casualty as the Kansans boarded a train at Manhattan last night was Casey Cosgrove, a sophomore halfback left behind with a bad knee.

At Lincoln, Coach Biff Jones disclosed what wasn't a secret anyway—that he is going to need plenty of help against Minnesota Saturday. He let his reserves do all the heavy work against the Frosh yesterday and the Frosh found it heavy going.

The second string, with Midgents Jim Mather and Marvin Plock and Second String Fullback Bill Anderson doing most of the backfield work, scored three touchdowns. The third team added another. Today the reserves will join the regulars in the tapering off process.

Tom Stidham grumbled in Norman because his varsity could push over only four touchdowns in a heavy afternoon's scrimmage with the freshmen, and was stopped twice for downs.

As in Lincoln, there was an intimation the Sooners reserves may get plenty of work in the week-end battle against Rice. McCarty's punt returns and McCullough's passes gave the second string two quick touchdowns. Merrell was the most consistent gainer among the regulars.

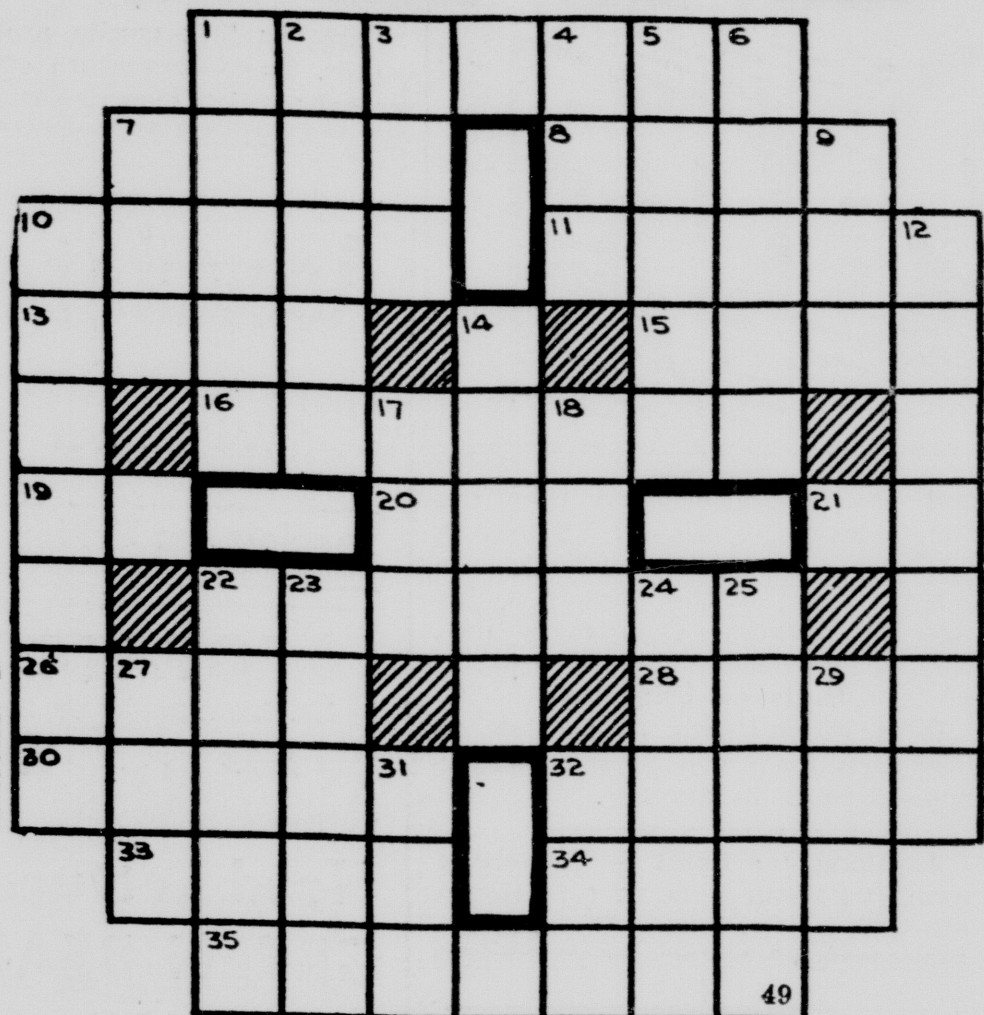

Missouri dropped a hint Colorado may be in for plenty when the Tigers go west to see the mountains around Boulder Saturday. Coach Don Faurot concentrated his efforts on cracking the freshman line, with two veteran fullbacks, Stan Mondala and Harry Mason proving the most efficient "crackers."

The return of Hank Wilder to the Iowa State squad was a silver lining in what still remains a prospective cloudy Saturday—a game against Northwestern's Big Ten champions. Coach Jim Yeager continued to emphasize fundamentals. Preparing for night work against Washburn at Topeka Friday, the Kansas Jayhawks tried to puzzle out Ichabod plays as demonstrated by their freshmen.

Coach Ad Lindsey said he doubted if either Bill Arnold, end, or Dick Amerine, halfback, would be ready that soon.

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(P)—Note to Van Lingle Mungo, Pageland, S. C.; start doing the "big apple." . . . You definitely will be traded this winter. . . . Giants, Cards and Cubs have bids ready. . . . Terry wants Joe Stripp. . . . (Mel Ott has been doing fine work at third base, but he isn't the hottest guy on earth at fielding bunts) . . . Frisch could use Stripp, too. . . . If the Cards will part with Dizzy Dean and a promising youngster or so, they can get you and Stripp. . . . Can't find out what Charlie Grimm will offer, but he's in the market, you can bet.

Cards will be completely rebuilt. . . . Only Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize are sure of their jobs. . . . Branch Rickey may swing a dozen deals at the winter meetings. . . . Some reports say Pepper Martin and Leo Durocher are tagged to go. . . . Leo has a head full of brains and still does a pretty fair job of shortstopping if you ask us. . . . Big Cardinal need is pitching. . . . Richey will not hesitate to part with a few promising infielders and outfielders to get a guy like Mungo. . . . There's your chance, Dodgers.

Cauliflower alley hears Barney Ross is ready to call it quits; ditto Jimmy Braddock. . . . Howard Jones out at Southern California would like to swap some speed for power. . . . He's got the fastest bunch of backs he's ever had. . . . The West Pointers toss a beefsteak dinner for New York football writers at Dempsey's tonight. . . . At least three pro tennis scouts hot footed it for the west (to try and sign Don Budge) following that blast against amateur tennis in "Sports Illustrated Magazine."

Tip went out a year ago to keep your optics on this Byron Nelson.

... The Ole Miss rebels are flying to Philadelphia today for tomorrow night's game with Temple. Trip from Oxford to Philly will be made in two 24-passenger planes and will take only six and one-half hours. . . . The Rebs promise to show the east the best tackle in the south in Frank "Bruiser" Kinard, who is 212 pounds of everything. . . . Joe McCarthy says the Giants are a better team than last year and that it's silly to make the Yanks 11 to 5 favorites.

TRUSTEE'S SALE

Whereas, Lawrence P. Klein and Lena Klein, his wife, by their deed of trust dated October 1, 1923, filed in the office of Recorder of Deeds of Pettis County, Missouri, at Sedalia, and recorded in Book 301, at page 233, did convey unto Farmers Trust Company, as trustee, for the purpose of securing the indebtedness mentioned in said deed of trust, the following described real estate situate in Pettis County, Missouri, to-wit:

The West half of Lot number One (1) of the Northwest quarter of Section 2, Township 44 North, Range 20, West of the 5th P. M. and the East half of Lot Number One (1) of the Northeast quarter and the East half of the Southeast quarter of Section 3, Township 44 North, Range 20 West of the 5th P. M., containing in all 160 acres, more or less.

And whereas, said deed of trust provides that in case the trustee therein named, by reason of resignation or disability shall fail to perform said trust as therein provided, then the legal holder of the note secured thereby shall have the power to substitute any other person as trustee, and that the party so substituted shall have the same powers as the trustee named therein and that the acts of said substituted trustee shall be as effectual and binding upon all parties as if performed by the trustee named therein.

And whereas, the Farmers Trust Company, the trustee named in said deed of trust, is unable to perform the duties of trustee as mentioned therein and has heretofore resigned as trustee in said deed of trust.

And whereas, the legal owner and holder of said note and deed of trust has heretofore appointed Oscar Bangert, as trustee in the place and stead of said Farmers Trust Company and thereby invested said substituted trustee with all the powers conferred by said deed of trust upon the trustee therein named and said substituted trustee has accepted said trust.

And whereas, said note and deed of trust provide that in event default be made in the payment of either principal or interest or any part thereof, or upon default in payment of taxes, or the observance of any condition of said deed of trust, that the whole of the principal and interest of said note should, at the option of the holder of said note, become due and payable without notice.

And whereas, default has been made in the payment of the regular semi-annual installment of principal and interest on said note due October 1, 1932 upon said indebtedness, as well as all installments that have become due since that date, by reason of which the whole of said indebtedness became due and now remains unpaid.

Now, therefore, the undersigned substituted trustee, at the request of the legal owner and holder of said note and deed of trust, does hereby give notice that he will, on Friday, the 1st day of October, A. D. 1937, between the hours of nine o'clock A. M. and five o'clock P. M., at that day, beginning at two o'clock P. M., at the west front door of the Pettis County Court House at Sedalia, Missouri, sell the above described land at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, for the purpose of discharging the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust, the interest due thereon, and the costs of executing this trust.

Said sale to be made subject to any unpaid taxes.

Substituted Trustee.

FAMILIES MOVE TO MODEL TOWN IN MARYLAND

Greenbelt Was Erected In Use of $14,227,000 of Relief Funds

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—A small group of carefully selected families moved today into a model town erected with $14,227,000 of government relief funds.

They were the first of 885 families who eventually will populate nearby Greenbelt, Md., the experimental town planned by Rexford Guy Tugwell to "put homes and land and people together in such a way that the props under our economic and social structure will be permanently strengthened."

The "pioneers" found a postmaster already on the job. Their settlement is a cluster of neat brick and cinder-block houses and apartments that rent for $18 to $41 a month.

Eventually a non-profit consumer cooperative will stock the food, drug and general merchandise stores. There also are bright new buildings for a beauty parlor, doctors, dentists, a restaurant, motion picture theater, and other services regarded as essential.

The town meets physical ideals laid down by Tugwell. It has a pretty artificial lake, already stocked with 20,000 fish. Its sidewalks and pathways are separated from highways by underpasses. Most of the homes front on open courts and there are garden and farm plots nearby.

Officials found several thousand persons eager to try life in the community, which is five miles from the District of Columbia. They limited residents to those earning $1,000 to $2,000 a year.

The first families selected were chiefly government employees. The parents are from 21 to 59 years old and have from one to three children.

Greenbelt will be governed by an elected town council and a city manager, the first in the state of Maryland.

FUTURE FARMERS OF GREEN RIDGE MET

The Future Farmers of the Green Ridge high school are enthusiastic over the prospect of this year's projects, which will probably be equal or superior to the projects they had before the depression.

Mr. Stephens of Sedalia, and Mr. Melroy of Jefferson City, who represent the Productive Credit Association met Monday night with the boys, their parents and Prof. F. W. Smith, superintendent of vocational agriculture in the Green Ridge school.

Two associations were formed, the Green Ridge Eve Association and Green Ridge Livestock Association, which will consist of beef calves, brood sows and mares.

Both associations have a membership of 19 boys. The boys are planning a project tour this fall, which all will be invited to attend, that every one may see what approved practices will accomplish.
